LOUIS J. STELLMAN

Out of the grist of economic maladjustments, frets and crimes, or largs and small ambitions which a city's news provides, there emerged last week the story of a tragedy so poignant and a love so wonderful that it ranks with those eternal legends made by Romeo and Juliet, Tristan and Isolde, Abelard and Heloise With it is mingled sacrifice as lofty and complete as that of Father Damien's. It has all the simple grandeur of those tales which will endure throughout the ages. It is a story of human love that defies adversity. Briefly, it is this:

Thirty-three years ago Major H. G. Hornbostel met and married his wife, Gertrude, on the island of Guam. Later they moved to Manila wher he became a prosperous business man. Their life together was, till 1941, serenely happy. Then they were trapped by the Japanese invasion and immured in San Tomas prison until Manila was recaptured. In the filthy Japanese prison Hornbostel lost sixty pounds; his wife contracted a skin-ailment which turned out to be leprosy. Both are now in the United States and Mrs. Hornbostel will be taken to the leprosarium in Carville, Louisana.....

Major Hornbostel has applied for permision to enter the leper colony with his wife. He wants to give up his extensive business interests and work with the lepers; he is willing to do menial labor—anything which will permit him to be near her. While this is against regulations governing such institutions, he has enlisted the aid of many important persons and it is believed an exception will be made in his case. He is 65 and his wife is not much younger. They have, in all probability, not too many years of life ahead of them. She is faced with the horrors of one of the most terrible diseases known to medicine. Yet both of them say they will be happy if they can be together. Nothing else means much to them. Major Hornbostel doesn't even think he is heroic. "My wife is the brave one", he says. "I am only following the natural impulse of a man who wants and needs the company of one he loes". Mrs. Hornbostel smilingly declares she's not afraid of anything but losing Hans, her husband. "I'm much better off than if I had concer or tuberculosis", she declares. She feels she's going to get well. "If we can only be together, we can lick anything", they say.

What a world this would be, if it were made up of people like that! Personally, I'd trade it for any concept of Heaen I have ever known. And, even as it is—amid our maelstrom of mean purposes and seifish conflicts—it lifts us, toward a new and higher inspiration just to learn of people like the Major and his wife. God go with them.

Election Officers Named

It was anounced today by County Clerk W. H. Augustus that appointments of Election Officers for the June 4th Primary Election have been completed and mailed. Approximately 2000 Officers were appointed which is the largest number ever to serve at an election in this County.

The many new precincts established throughout the County and the scarcity of applicants in the various communities and cities necessitated that many officers be appointed to serve in precincts other than the one in which they are registered. Such persons will be given sufficient time from their duties to return to the precinct where they are registered to vote. Mr. Augustus emphasized that "In view of the large shortage of eligible officers in many areas the full cooperation of all officers appointed in serving at the location set forth on their appointment notice would be most helpful to the conduct of the election and greatly appreciated".

Menlo Trounces O'Neill's 27-0; Seals To Play Season Opener

"It shouldn't happen to a dog" said Mr. O'Neill's of O'Neill's Pharmacy when he sadly packed his duffle and wearily started homeward after his club had taken a 27 to 0 shellacking at the hands of the Menlo Senior Club.

It's safe to say that Menlo did have an exceptional day at bat with Elmo Ledesma collecting five for six; Preader, two for four; Budelli, two for four and down the list.

Mason was in top form and he had little trouble with the O'Neill's racking up 22 strike-outs and allowing two hits in nine innings.

As the day wore on, the problem of getting the side out concerned the Menlo club and several otherwise smart ball players seemed to get caught off base at regular intervals.

Ward Walkup, of Atherton, Sequoia and Stanford, caught the last four innings. This boy has been Mason's catcher for some seasons and he looked like a hustling ball player to the fans.

Cecil Cane, up from Junior competition, took a turn at first and collected one hit in two tries at bat.

Next Sunday the Menlo Club will officially open its season playing the Junior Seals. Charlie Graham of the Seals has been very kind to the Menlo Park teams giving them a number of uniforms and he has sent speakears and players to our sport nights. So it is auspicious that we open the season with the team representing the Seals in semi-pro circles.

The newly formed Junior Legion team in their new uniforms will play an exhibition game before the opener to give the fans a preview of the Junior competition.

The Menlo Seniors will be decked out in their flashy new suits and the American Legion will officiate at the flag-raising ceremony.

In order to accomodate the large crowd that is expected, bleachers have been secured for the opening game from Menlo JC.

One week from Sunday, June 2, the Junior circuit wil get under way and the Senior team will entertain the veterans at the base hospital playing the Federal Outfitting team of San Francisco.

Food Collection House-To-House

The Emergency Food Collection has been extended to Saturday, June 15 Frank Becker, chairman, anounced today. He also wishes to emphasize the fact to those donating food, that only canned food will be accepted—no glass, or paper containers can be used.

With the assistance of several seventh grade pupils from Central school. a house to house collection wil be made for the next three Saturdays. Anyone having a car who could donate his services would be appreciated.

Money is still being collected at the Menlo Park Recorder office. To date $180 has been received.

Canned goods should be taken to the Frank Becker home, 1235 Laurel street or wait for the Saturday collection.

Five-Year $2 Tax Necessary for School

On June 18, the Menlo Park elementary schools will present a proposition to the voters of the district to increase the tax limit of the district from the present limitation of 90 cents to an upper limit of $2 for a period of five years.

The board is faced with a problem of financing local schools for the next five years which will not be possible under the present tax limitation, according to O. H. Olson, superintendent.

The present enrollment of the Menlo Park elementary school is about 600 pupils and there are 17 classrooms with double sessions having been necessary at Fremont school prior to the completion of three units which have been occupied since March 1, Olson said.

He went on to say that the problem of housing children is more complex than this figure shows because we have in our kindergarten and primary grades a school population of approximately 80 children in each grade. On the other hand we have 45 pupils in the eighth grade who will leave school this June with an expectation of 80 or more new kindergarten children for the fall term in September.

Not considering any outside growth, we will have in our schools in the fall an increase of about 40 pupils. However, by past experience, we find that we have a considerable increase of newcomers into the community and we feel that a safe estimate for fall enrollment will be from 600 to 650 pupils.

The final consideration in this matter of growth is the fact that within five years, our classes will reach the figure of 80 or more without the outside increase which we know must come as soon as materials are released to build the 1000 homes proposed in the Menlo Park area, he declared, and added that the Menlo Park school board must plan for future buildings, sites and expansion to house its school population. To do this the board plans to purchase two school sites, erect buildings when the need is evident and to create a building reserve to care for future building and at the same time meet an increased 1946-47 budget of $135,000. At the present tax rate, this district can raise only about $63,000 for elementary schools in addition to about $27,000 from the state.

Poppy Day

Today and tomorrow will be Poppy Day. Members of American Legion Auxiliary, 443 and volunteer workers will sell the poppies in Menlo Park.

Made by veterans of the Spanish War and World Wars I and II, the funds collected from the sale of these poppies, are used to aid war veterans in hospitals.

Mrs. Truman Calling

Mrs. Alvina Wipfler, 1034 Pine street, who is night switchboard operator at Menlo Junior College, had an interesting experience one night this week.

In the middle of her local numbers she got a call from Rio de Janiero and was musing over the fact when she received another long distance ring—this time from Paris, France. Not long after, she had a third call—this one from Scotland and had barely recovered from her surprise when a call came in from Washington, D.C., "Mrs. Truman calling one of the Junior College students."

We Don't Like The Idea

Since the announcement some months ago that Dibble General Hospital was to be abandoned by the army June 30, we have heard not less than a dozen proposed uses for the institution when and if the property is declared surplus.

First it was going to be a veterans' hospital for mental cases but that died down when the Veterans' Administration turned thumbs down because they said it could not be adequately staffed. Along came Stanford who wanted the whole shebang to house married veterans attending the university. Sequoia high school district wants a portion of the property for a high school site and the city of Menlo Park wants a 10-acre strip which includes the hospital's recreation facilities and various buildings which could be used as a civic center and corporation yard.

The last three groups mentioned met recently and discovered the property could be divided so each would be satisfied without interfering with the other's plans. It has remained unchanged awaiting the time when the property is declared surplus and a bid can be made for its purchase.

Then along comes a supervisor, Martin Poss, from the opposite end of the county who suggests the county take over the plant and operate it as a county hospital, TB sanitarium, juvenile home and what have you. He later stated that this would be a good plan if it "did not interfere'" with the plans of Sequoia, Stanford and Menlo Park.

We realize that the hospital situation in San Mateo county is critical, so critical that a hospital district is now being formed to be taxed for a new 100-bed hospital to be located in Redwood City. Menlo Park and East Palo Alto are excluded from the district by their own choice because of the proximity of Palo Alto hospital.

What seems strange is the fact that when all the talk went around about a new hospital, the ONLY place it could be located, because of its central location was Redwood City. Now when it comes to finding a place for the mentally ill, tuberculars, juvenile cases, etc. which would not be desirable in the new hospital, Dibble hospital, it seems, is just the place.

In the first place, the buildings are not permanent structures and were not built to the high standards required for public hospitals.

It is our understanding that Menlo Park, of which Dibble hospital, is a part of, rates first priority after the Veterans Administration and all requests have to be cleared through the city for any part of the property when it becomes surplus.

If Stanford needs housing for its veteran students, Sequoia needs a high school site, and Menlo Park surely needs a civic center and recreation facilities, let's stop this hospital idea now—before ite gets any further.

First Performance of Guild Play Tonight; Ticket Sales Indicate Record Attendance

By Edna Crane-Burchfield

Under the guidance of the Menlo Players' Guild, new director, Bob Bettencourt, the members of the "Out of the Frying Pan" cast, will present their play tonight and Saturday night, at Central School Auditorium.

This particular play, written by Francis Swann, was an excellent choice for the Guild, as it is an hilarious farce comedy, a "play within a play". The situations are unusually funny and the zany characterizations should provide much amusement for the audience. The lines are sophisticated comedy at its best and Bob Bettencourt has brought the full measure of fun from each member of his cast.

The opening scene in the second act, is one of the funniest, the Guild has ever done.

The policy of the Guild to avoid star billing is a wise one, as it gives each member a chance. Vernon Barker who played the lead in "George Washington Slept Here" and the last production, "The Good Bad Man", plays a bit part in the coming production, which he makes a gem of character acting, because of his experience. Jane George, who made such a hit in the George Washington play, has the part of a roominghouse landlady in the present production and plays the part for every bit of comedy there is in it.

Vina Mott, George Terhune, Patsy Cole, John Lomax and Fred Rasmussen are well known to local playgoers, having appeared in previous productions, but Cliff Adams, Carl Sundquist, Letitia Eder, Bette Rehorst and Sam Flanagan are making their first bow before a Menlo audience. Flanagan is a scream as the big, burly, quick-tempered police officer, his reading of his lines is professional and his timing is perfect.

The entire action of the play takes place in the living room of a brownstone front apartment in New York City and the Player's Guild stage crew has copied the original set.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8:30. The ticket sale has been good and a large crowd is expected on both nights.

The Guild members held a meeting last Friday night, the last time the group will meet at the home of Miss Emma Noel on Ravenswood Avenue.

She was presented with a gift of appreciation from the group, Vernon Barker making the presentation.

Dr. Margery Bailey, of the English department, Stanford University, addressed the members on Dramatists Alliance, a National organization formed to encourage amateur playwrights.

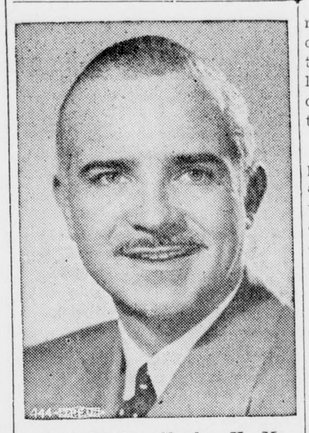

Jewelry Stolen From Morrel Home

The Raymond F. Morrel home, 20 Cedar Street, Menlo Park, was burglarized over the weekend.

Four men's watches, a woman's lapel watch and a broach with a diamond center were taken. The burglars overlooked $470 in cash which was hidden in the house.

The burglars believed by the sheriff's office to have been juveniles, also helped themselves to a loaf of bread, cakes and a jar of jam.

Businessmen Sign Petition Protesting License Setup

Last Sunday Charles H. McDonald, Democratic candidate for Congress, attended a meeting of the Italian-American Club of Menlo Park. He visited with friends there, and he and his party enjoyed watching the athletic contests. After the meeting, Mcdonald gathered with his campaign committee to complete plans for five large rallies to be held in San Mateo County before the primaries June 4.

Spurred by an announcement made last week by the city council of a new plan under consideration to determine the rate for business licenses according to gross revenue, over 100 merchants signed a petition protesting the proposed change.

Leaflets were distributed by the police department early in the week explaining the plan which said that the council recommended the change in the interest of a more equitable distribution of the license payments.

Businesses exempt from this plan, to use the flat rate system, because "they do not lend themselves to this type of schedule," are amusement enterprises and devices, contractors, financial institutions, public utilities, laundry and cleaning establishments, used car lots, hotels, peddlers and solicitors, real estate brokers, wholesale vehicles, advertising signs, and some others.

A meeting will be held at the city hall on Tuesday, May 28, 8 p.m. to discuss the desirability of the proposed plan.

See The Birdie!

Several photographer, specializing in childrens' pictures, are canvassing Menlo Park in search for business. Now we are told by police chief Jack Yount that only one of the picture-snappers is licensed to work within the city limits. Whether the other photographers represent reliable firms or intend to take your money and not your picture, is not known but to be on the safe side, ask the salesman to see his city license. If he doesn't have one, give the police a buzz and they will take over.

Lions Nominate New Officers

At its regular meeting Wednesday night at Bertrand's, the Menlo Park Lions Club nominated officers for the year 1946-47.

Those nominated were: John Sullivan, president; Albert Giannotti, first vice president; Chris Connor, third vice president; Edward Derry, third vice president; Roland Ward, secretary-treasurer; Joseph Horn, tail twister; Wallace Ott, Lion tamer; and Ralph Lawson, George Terhune, Dick Crawford, and Ray Fickes, directors.

Hold-over directors are Dan Atell, Fil Giannotti, and Steve Gilbert.

Retiring from the board of directors will be J. W. Ryan, Dr. Frank Fratas, Wallace Ott and Roland Midgley.

McAllister Raps Poss For Hospital Plan

"A sense of responsibility to the whole county, as well as to his own particular district, is to my mind the most necessary qualification that a county supervisor must have," declared Richard McAllister, supervisorial candidate for the second district, today.

"I was greatly surprised," McAllister continued, "to find that my opponent, made the proposal for county purchase of Dibble hospital without consulting the citizens of Menlo Park who are most certainly those directly concerned with the fate of that huge government institution.

"My own sense of responsibility, prompted by years of public service, would never allow me to take such a position and I can assure the people of the Menlo Park area that, if I am elected, their affairs will not be callously disregarded by me.

"I most certainly believe that Menlo Park should be the first political subdivision to be considered in determining the disposition of Dibble hospital and I pledge myself that Menlo Park will always have my first hearing in any matter that so directly affects its own corporate community."

Youth Group Drama Coming Wednesday

This coming Wednesday evening, May 29, the youth group of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church will present the long awaited musical drama, "Religion in the Fine Arts".

Among the outstanding numbers there will be two solo's sung by Mrs. Lloyd Van Oterendorp. The Treble Choir will sing "The Twenty-Third Psalm. A number of beautiful readings are being made ready; they include "The Creation" and "A Manhattan Christmas Eve".

According to Mrs. Harold Wild, who is directing the production, the program will be extremely interesting and colorful.

The scenery and lighting effects, which will be completed this week will add rich color and beauty to the production. The scenery was designed and built by Don Knudsen, and the lighting will be handled by Edwin Banta, and James Kennemer.

The curtain will rise promptly at eight o'clock and the public is invited to attend.

Your City's Business

By Charles P. Burgess

Disposition of Dibble General Hospital upon the termination of the Army's requirements is a subject of intense interest to the citizens of this community. Several requests for acquisition of the property have already been lodged with Federal disposal agencies, and now San Mateo County officials have proposed that the County take over the establisment for a community hospital, relief home, juvenile home, public health center and social service and tuberculosis care center.

Stanford University has signed a contract with the Federal Public Housing Authority for 300 housing units for its married veteran students of which some 700 are now living off the campus. No specific assignment has yet been made by the FPHA, as Dibble has not yet been officially declared surplus, but FPHA oficials have been working with Dibble authorities on plans for the reconstruction of hospital wards into apartments, and it is generally understood that this housing is to go to Stanford. Incidentally, Stanford will require all of the Dibble wards if it is to obtain the 300 badly needed housing units on these grounds. If the property goes to FPHA for disposal, Stanford, without question, should obtain the structures, as veteran's housing has a priority above all others.

Menlo Park wishes to obtain about twenty acres containing park, recreation and civic facilities. This request does not conflict with Stanford's, as there are no housing units on the grounds, and, in fact, the University has so stated to the FPHA. Sequoia Union High School District also wishes a corner of Dibble (that has very few buildings on it) for the purpose of building a regional high school in this end of the Sequoia District. This request likewise conflicts neither with Stanford nor the city.

The University's housing program at Dibble would be temporary by the very terms of the FPHA contract. During the emergency period,

In the lost and found department of a peninsula paper, two pets are listed as lost—a yellow duck strayed from a Santa Cruz Avenue address and a pet turtle wandered from a home on Middlefield Road. A reward is offered in both cases. Odd pets, but pets just the same—for the umteenth time, assistant postmaster, Jack Tuttle, tired of endless complaints; puts new pens in the holders on the desk in the post office lobby, remarking, "It can happen here, because I'm doing it"—Johnny Skrabo arranging pale gold and white gladioli and scarlet peonies in Preuss' Drug Store to decorate the store for Maryan Patey, representative of Francis Denny cosmetics, I watch Maryan giving advice to feminine customers on the correct use of cosmetics, but I stayed in the backfield. She may not care to tackle re-cap job—Mayor Charles Burgess, with a pillow over his head, trying to get some sleep while the cast of the Players' Guild production, "Out of the Frying Pan", stages an after-rehearsed refreshment party, next door, at the home of George and Mel Terhune—another airplane has crashed into a New York building; wouldn't you think with all the room they have and no interference, that flyers could steer clear of buildings in large cities?—I wish whoever has authority to do so, would lengthen the time on the "stop" signal on El Camino and Santa Cruz Avenue on the El Camino stop. While cars are stopped on the highway, a fast walker can just barely make the opposite curb before the cars are given the go signal, the slow, the lame, the halt and myself are lucky to get to the safety zone (so-called) in the middle of the street, before the cars start. I realize that highway traffic is heavier than that on Santa Cruz Avenue, but the El Camino stop is not long enough and as far as the button, pedestrians push to stop highway traffic is concerned it might just as well be on a player-piano for all the good it does—A little Menlo Park girl whose temper is extremely short, was having trouble with some childish contraption, after tsruggling for awhile, she said to her mother, "Oh, I'm irrigated".

Looking through one of the condensed, canned-culture-in-a-hurry magazines not long ago, I discovered an ad offering to teach Spanish by phonograph records. According to the ad, you can play the records and only 15 minutes study each day, is required to learn how to speak Spanish. As easy as that. The ad goes on to state that, "Airplanes are fast bringing about a whole new world to you". The airplane has brought no new world to me, it has just brought the fear, that one of them would crash into my home and send me into the middle of the next world.

The Spanish ad gives numerous testimonials from palpitating graduates who dash madly into print. One, from a woman who says she was surprised "how much her child absorbed by listening". Illustrating the ad, is a picture of a man and wife, huddled together on a chesterfield, holding hands, too cozy for words; their little daughter lies on her stomach on the floor, absorbing Spanish, no doubt, while out of the phonograph comes sentences in Spanish.

The ad says that millions are being spent to develop mines and farms in Mexico and South America and that an ability to speak Spanish would give one a chance to be "friends, instead of regarding them as foreigners". I never cared for farming and I can't see what good Spanish would do me in the bottom of a South American mine, but I'm the venturesome type, so I turned to another page in the body of the magazine and went to work on one of their Spanish lessons.

Here are some of the Spanish sentences I copied at random from the lesson. I'm not trying to be funny, these sentences are actually in the lesson.

"I am the mailman. I'm from Spain". How I could use that, on the streets of Menlo Park, I don't know.

The next one is really a dilly—"The window is open. The coffee is cold. The house is clean". I suppose an open window could cool the coffee but what has the clean house to do with it? It would cool just as quickly in some crummy dump. The next one has a coy touch. "I am in love. I am tired. I look pale". This one at least makes a stab at continuity, being in love can sometimes be very tiresome, so much depends on the party of the second part.

I tried to memorize most of the sentences, but this one stopped me and I pased it by. "It is cold in winter. John is in Boston. Boston is in the United States". Profound, isn't it.

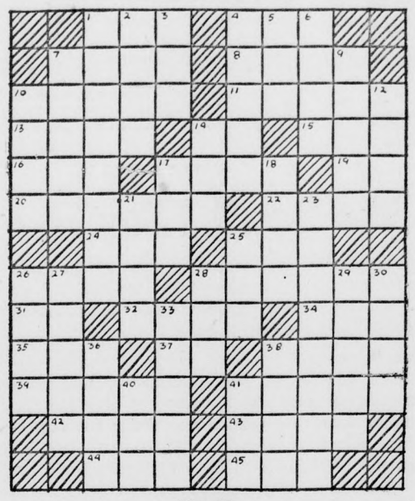

The only person I know in town, who speaks Spanish, is Pete Dias, in the Menlo Fruit Market, so I tried this one on him. "The house is large. You are in love. The box is made of cardboard. He said, "What's the matter, don't you feel well?"

I plugged stolidly along until I came to this one. "There is no school on Saturday. Yesterday was Friday. Tomorrow is Sunday". Then I quit cold.

I'll stick to my English, such as it is and forget about the mines in Mexico.

SCOUTS

CUB PACK 4

Menlo Park's Cub Pack 4 held its monthly meeting last Friday night at the Central School auditorium. The theme for the evening was based upon Indian ceremonies and lore. Once a year Pack 4 gathers around the campfire council of the Webelos and pay recognition to Cubs who are being inducted, those who have advanced in rank and graduates who are leaving the pack to go into scouting.

The background for the Indian ceremonies was an Indian tepee, in front of which was an artificial campfire.

During the evening, John Lomax reviewed the progress of the Pack during the last year and stated that May was re-registration month for Pack 4.

Paul Melvin, in charge of Pack sports, told about Pack 4's participation in the track meet held at Sequoia high school. Out of 10 boys, nine won awards.

The Pack graduation ceremonies saw four Cub Scouts turned over to Scoutmaster Floyd Beach of Menlo Park troop 107.

As the campfire lights burned low, W. F. Jewett read to the Pack the life story of Akela, the Chief of the Webelos.

The following Cubs were inducted into the Pack as Bobcats:

Sandy Spelman, Alfred Martini, and Mark Mott.

Wolf badges were awarded to Howard White and John Heaphy.

For the first time in the history of the Pack, five Cubs received their Lion ranks: Tom Morey, Joe O'Halloran, Jack Fisher, Paul Melvin, and Gavin Carr.

Tom Morey of Den 3 was awarded his Webelos badge, the highest award in Cubbing.

Graduates into Scouting were: Tom Morey, Robert Lawson, Jack Fisher, and Robert Sjosten.

Service Stars were awarded to: Robert Lawson, Norman Ruiz, Patrick Melvin and Bill Walsh.

Kevin Gilroy and Harry Morey received their Wolf Silver Arrows and Robert Sjosten was awarded his Lion Silver Arrow.

Next Sunday afternoon Pack 4 will attend the County-Wide Cub-O-Ree to be held at Sequoia High School. All Cub Scouts and parents are asked to be there at 1 p.m.

Friday night, May 31, at 7:30, baseball pictures of last year's World Series will be shown for all scouts and cubs at the Central school auditorium. All parents are invited.

Closing the Cub program for the summer will be a picnic at Flood Park June 16.

Your City's Business

there can be no purpose more worthy of public support than the housing of the veterans who are attending school under the terms of the GI Bill of Rights. From a local standpoint, a primary objective is the obtaining of a site for a local high school. Finally, it is obvious that the best public interest requires the recreation area at Dibble to be open to the entire community rather than being restricted to any particular group, and therfore it should go to the City. All three purposes appear to me to be at least as essential as those to which the County propose to put the property.

A serious protest would surely be raiesd by the residents of this area to County acquisition of Dibble. The Hopkins Tract, of which Dibble is a portion, constitutes 281 acres of some of the best subdivision property in the County. Linlfield Oaks, adjacent to Dibble, is planned to be one of the finest residential developments in the Menlo Park area. The proposed County use of the ipnroperty would blight this area, destroying adjacent land values and stultiying any building program. In short, this land is too valuable and located too near the heart of the community to be put to such a use.

It is of interest to note that two Federal agencies, and these have not at all times been overly economical with the taxpayers' money, agree that the lay out of Dibble is toc extensive to be economically staffed as a hospital under peacetime conditions. For this reason, the installation is to be abandoned. Whether the property would be economical for County use, I don't know.

It is my understanding that the laboratory and other medical equipment at Dibble is to be moved to the Veterans' Hospital on Willow Road. If this be true, there is no appreciable value to Dibble for County purposes other than for the structures. Their contsruction, however, is light and hardly what would be considered satisfactory for a permanent hospital. The buildings are neither fireproof nor earthquake proof, and could not pass the State code for school purposes. What the hospital requirements are I don't know, but certainly from a practical viewpoint, hospital patients require even greater protection. This would seem to make the County proposal impractical even if the acquisition were delayed several years until Stanford's need of veterans' housing is past.

In short, I doubt that the County can obtain any portion of Dibble in view of the needs of the other claiments.

HORSESHOW AND FESTIVAL

Ribbons, the red, blue and white of horseshow awards; ribbons, the rainbow streamers swirling in the gay measures of folk dances; ribbons, the blue and gold of the school colors of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Menlo Park, these are the ribbons tying up that kingsize package of gala events to be opened and enjoyed on May 30 at the annual Horseshow and May Festival presented by the pupils of the Convent.

The affair traditionally held on Memorial Day begins at 2 p. m. in the afternoon and is open to the public. Admission is $1.10 for one adult or 2 children with all proceeds going to restore the convents destroyed and damaged in the war.

Following the afternoon events there will be a barbecue supper served for $1.50.

IS THE P.A.C. DELIBERATELY TRYING TO DECEIVE THE VOTERS?

The Political Action Committee has publicly announced that Congressman Jack Anderson's voting record is bad. But has the P.A.C. told the voters that its own selfish aim is to control Congress—and that any congressman who stands in its way is automatically bad?

Has the P.A.C. told the voters that it can only find 5 issues out of over 800 roll call votes to criticize giving Anderson a 99% record of good votes?

Has the P.A.C. told you that it will gladly stoop to misleading half truths in its power-hungry struggle for control of Congress. Of course it hasn't. But since this is your government and you deserve to know all the facts, here are the very issues the P.A.C. criticizes so severely. Would you have voted differently in a single instance?

THE ISSUE . . . EXTENSION OF THE OPA

The P.A.C. says . . . he was wrong!
The Voters say . . . he was RIGHT!

In an attempt to blacken Congressman Anderson's record the P.A.C. says he voted against extension of the O.P.A. That's a deliberate falsehood. Jack Anderson voted to extend O.P.A. to March 31, 1947. He has done everything he could to make O.P.A. effective. He voted against BLACK MARKETS and for amendments which would return butter, nylon stockings, lumber and building materials. Rent control was not touched.

THE ISSUE . . . ARMING MERCHANT SHIPS

The P.A.C. says . . . he was wrong!
The Voters say . . . he was RIGHT!

It's a shame the P.A.C. has to go back 5 years to find fault with Congressman Anderson's record. Particularly, when the voters have twice re-elected him since this vote was cast in Congress. Certainly, Anderson voted against arming merchant ships. But did the P.A.C. tell you that Jack Anderson favored the CONVOY instead of lone wolf fighting? And convoys are the system that did the job.

THE ISSUE . . . LEND-LEASE

The P.A.C. says . . . he was wrong!
The Voters say . . . he was RIGHT!

Here's another case where the P.A.C. goes way, way back. Right at the beginning, Congressman Anderson did vote against Lend-Lease. But did the P.A.C. tell you he had just returned from the Pacific and was not in favor of giving away the protection we needed so badly until our forward bases were fortified? Didn't Pearl Harbor, Midway, Guam and the Philippine Islands prove he was right?

THE ISSUE . . . PATMAN HOUSING BILL

The P.A.C. says . . . he was wrong!
The Voters say . . . he was RIGHT!

This is the boldest, most flagrant misstatement the P.A.C. has made. Jack Anderson didn't vote against this bill. He voted for it. Is the P.A.C. trying to confuse the public by bringing up the amendment for 600 million dollars that was rushed to the floor two hours after the bill had been taken up for consideration? When Mr. Wyatt was asked, "Is this for the Veteran," he said "No." When asked what it was for, he said he "didn't" know, but he was sure he would need it. Jack Anderson says, "When Mr. Wyatt or his successor needs money to facilitate the veteran building program and knows what he needs it for, he shall have my wholehearted support."

THE ISSUE - - - FARM SUBSIDIES

The P.A.C. says . . . he was wrong!
The Voters say . . . he was RIGHT!

Does the P.A.C. know that for every dollar paid in subsidies it is necessary for the little taxpayer to pay approximately $5 before the farmer gets his money? Jack Anderson believes in economical, efficient government. Direct pricing is the sound way of marketing agricultural products.

IT ALL BOILS DOWN TO THIS . . .

Each one of these votes that the P.A.C. terms as very, very bad is a sound vote, once the facts are known. But the P.A.C. doesn't want you to know the facts. It wants you to believe half truths and deliberate misstatements. In short, it wants YOUR SEAT in Congress.

There is one way to say YOU DON'T LIKE HAVING THE P.A.C. BELITTLE YOUR INTELLIGENCE. That is to reelect Congressman Jack Anderson on June 4 by an overwhelming majority.

Let's return Jack Z.

ANDERSON TO CONGRESS

on his 99% record . . . with a record vote!

"Maddy" has been serving with the Red Cross and plans to resign her position in June while Fred will be released from the Navy in August.

Plans are for a summer wedding with the young couple continuing a scholastic career at the University of California. Fred will work for a docorate in economics and "Maddy" for a master's degree in English.

"Maddy" attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Menlo Park and Notre Dame at Belmont and received her AB at Stanford last June. Since then she has been serving as a Red Cross Hospital worker, first at Letterman Hospital in San Francisco and then at Dibble General Hospital.

Fred, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Peyton of St. Paul, is a graduate of St. Thomas College in that city. He has been stationed at Treasure Island.

Other headline news last week in the Sullivan family was the birth of a son to Captain and Mrs. Frederick Marion Wilkes (Betty Sullivan). The young man is to be christened Frederick Marion Wilkes III. The Wilkes make their home in San Rafael and Captain Wilkes is a member of General Stillwell's personal flying crew. He is stationed at Hamilton Field. The baby is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan.

M. P. WOMAN'S CLUB

● Mrs. Paul Bonnot was elected to the Las Lomitas School Board, Friday, without opposition. Walter Scheib, the incumbent did not run for re-election.

MIND OVER MATTER

One modern method of mining as yet unorganized by John L. Lewis is that of delving into the subconscious, a field in which a walk out might not be a bad thing. Today, intellectual diggings are crowded with amateur and professional prospectors staking claims to some new psychological bonanza each time they spot a limp watch in a surrealistic masterpiece (the word masterpiece is used in inverse ratio to a straight jacket, and too bad, too!).

A new strike was made last week, and don't be surprised if as a result the liniment stocks hit a new low (we mean quotes on Wall Street not bottled numbers on the drugstore shelf.) An eastern medico announced that some of those twinges tweeking spinal right-of-ways are not occasioned by physical disability. According to the scientist many rheumatic reactions result from repressed anger, especially where inexpressed wrath is directed toward the object of the restrainee's affection.

Following the same theory Dr. Frederick Niemand, a San Francisco physician, added that dental disorders may be mental disorders caused by emotional tensions or conflicts, with the chance that a gold digger (female variety) may be indirectly responsible for the series of miniature Grand Canyons in the bicuspids.

It seems that under the pressure of competition the modern male, rather than risk a misunderstanding with his O.A.O. (One and only), takes to suppressing complaints and criticisims and goes strong and silent, well, at least SILENT. That does it! scientists maintain that this emotional gag rule tends to bring OUT molars and ON rheumatic symtoms. One more for the debit side of civilization's ledger.

When Mr. Neolithic was an eligible bachelor, he didn't go for the finer nuances of etiquette, resulting in rheumatic symtms or store teeth,

If he had a difference of opinion with a local lovely somebody ended up in the deep freeze (Ice Age variety patent applied for) and it wasn't Mr. Nealithic. As for neuritis or bursitis, there was no such thing. Mr. Neolithic may not have died with boots on (they were hard to get then too) but he did bow out with a full set of molars, for neither he nor his predecessor, the Paleaolithic male, were bogged down by inhibitions, toothache or rheumatism (that they should live so long).
